

EAST MAIN STREET GREATLY IMPROVED

THE GRADING AND PAVING ARE WORTH MUCH TO PROPERTY

The work that is just being finished up on East Main street makes a better showing than any of the work that the city has done. The street has been graded down to where the hills out that street are not noticeable much, and the sidewalks make a walk toward the cemetery one of pleasure instead of fatigue. No street in town needed the improvement more than East Main, for it is over this street that the people in town go to the cemetery, and all of the people from the east side of town come that way. Formerly, it was washed out in gullies, and the mud was heavy, and the hills were steep.

It is safe to say that every piece of property adjoining East Main street has been increased in value from 25 to 35 per cent, and in some instances a good deal more.

Yessie Hildreth was here yesterday from Enterprise.

CAMPBELL INSTITUTE OPENED TODAY

The Campbell Institute of Accounting and Shorthand opened today at their college rooms on the third floor of the Cherry building.

A number of students were in attendance and the prospects are bright for a successful career for the new institution.

Miss Louise Florence of this city, is in charge of the English and literary department of the school. The shorthand department will be under the supervision of Miss Jonnie Mac Leary of Enterprise and the Commercial and office department will be under the direction of Prof. Campbell.

The night school will open tonight at 7:30 and will be in session every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, each night requiring two hours time.

Court Stenographer Joseph Boyd, of Troy, passed through the city today en route to Geneva, to attend court.

STATE SENATOR HAMBURGER DEAD

DEATH WAS CAUSED BY AP- OPLEXY BROUGHT ON BY EXPOSURE

Mobile, Oct. 3.—State Senator Max Hamburger, Jr., aged 35, whose term of office would have expired at the November election, was found dead in a room at the Cawthon Hotel Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, by one of the employees of the institution. Apoplexy, brought on by exposure, was the cause of his death. The man, apparently, had been dead for several hours, when his body was found, lying across the bed. Physicians were quickly summoned, but each of them, as they examined the body, pronounced life extinct. The remains were placed in charge of an undertaker and will be interred here probably on Tuesday.

The dead man was well known all over the state of Alabama as a newspaper man and as a politician, having taken an active part in the last amendment fight, and speaking in nearly every county for the cause of the anti-amenders and then later in behalf of Hon.

Emmet O'Neal for governor of the state. For a number of years he conducted the old Mobile Daily Herald, beginning there as a sub reporter and rising to the position of business manager and editor, later becoming sole owner. His first newspaper work was as correspondent for the Mobile Item at Whistler, Ala., the place of his birth, four miles from Mobile.

THREATENING FIRE EARLY THIS MORNING

This morning at 3:30 o'clock, the fire company responded to a call from the northwestern part of town known as Baptist Bottom, and found one negro residence and a store on fire.

The house was burning and the flying sparks had ignited a small store nearby. The buildings were close to the negro Baptist church and it seemed for a while that the entire part of town surrounding would be destroyed, but by scientific fire fighting, the flames were checked with a small damage.

The store house was the property of H. Q. Frazier, and was occupied by Hunter Innis.

BAY LINE ROAD WELL FIXED UP

COMPANY HAS MADE MANY IMPROVEMENTS THAT ARE APPRECIATED

The Bay Line road has moved its office over at the crossing of East Main street, where they have fitted up a neat and commodious depot. They have ample room for handling the passengers and freight, and the office room for the force is conveniently arranged.

You no longer have to go to the Enterprise Lumber Company mill to do business with the road. The grading on East Main street and the putting down the sidewalk shortens the distance, it seems.

SHOW FOR OLD SOLDIERS

The Criterion will give a special show tomorrow at 11 o'clock for the benefit of members of Camp Bartow, which will hold a meeting at the court house tomorrow. They will march down in a body at 11 o'clock and see the picture, "The Road to Richmond," ordered especially for the occasion, and which will be one that will hold special interest for every old soldier.

The doors will not be open for the public at this hour, but the same program will be shown during the afternoon and night.

ONE WEEK

Our sale beginning Sept. 24, has proven a decided success so far. We have the goods we advertised and are selling them as advertised. The people have learned that we do just what we say we will, consequently they know what to expect when we advertise a "SALE."

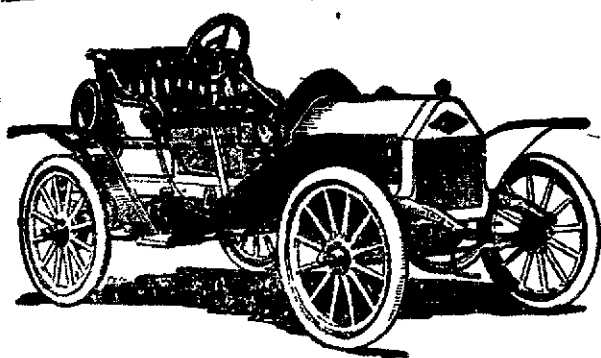

We are letting goods go at such unreasonable prices that it staggers the belief the most skeptical—not a dissatisfied customer has shown up, which proves conclusively that each customer is satisfied.

I have no apologies to make to my competitors for these prices. As advertised before, money is what we need, and need it now, and have put on these unreasonable prices, including bargain-giving for not other reason than to raise a big lot of money in a short time.

Our goods are not shelf worn, shoddy, second-handed, but the best goods direct from the mills and manufacturers.

For the reason I stated above, we are going to continue this sale one week, positively closing October 8, after which time the goods will take their former prices. Space will not admit of a protracted list of prices, but we invite you to look to your best interest and realize the benefits to be derived in purchasing your needs before the end of this SALE.

AUTO INTO ANOTHER

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 3.—In a collision Sunday night at Whitehall street and Trinity avenue between the automobiles of Dr. R. E. Hinman and Joseph Loewus, a real estate dealer, Mrs. Hinman was hurled from the Hinman car into the Loewus car and badly injured. The other occupants of the two cars escaped uninjured.

Immediately following the collision, Dr. Hinman, believing Mr. Loewus to be in the blame for the accident, rushed toward him and a personal difficulty was narrowly averted by Police Call Officers Blannen and Welch, who were riding past the scene at the time. Cases of reckless driving were entered against both Dr. Hinman and Mr. Loewus, and the two autoists will be arraigned this afternoon before Recorder Broyles.

Mrs. Hinman was rendered unconscious for a short time. As Mrs. Hinman struck the car she was caught by Mrs. Loewus and the force of the fall broken. Mrs. Hinman is resting easy Monday. Her condition is not considered serious.

EXODUS OF GAMBLERS FROM RENO, NEVADA

Reno, Nev., Oct. 3.—Every train leaving Reno bears its full quota of gamblers who were driven out of business when the lid was put on October 1. Train No. 23, for San Francisco, was considered particularly appropriate for the exodus and went out of here loaded to the doors with men of chance.

At the train was a large assemblage of gamblers, who watched the train, with the suggestive number, pull out. They were down and out without the price to get away. This marks the end of gambling in Reno under the new law. New York, the mecca of professional gamblers, was the ultimate objective point of those whose purses will stand the strain.

CHANGING ADS

It is the intention of this paper to give the very best service possible to the advertising patrons, but hereafter, changes for ads must be in the office by 10 o'clock in the morning, or the ad cannot be insured a change till the next day.

To get a paper out on time, the work has to be laid out ahead. This cannot be done, when it is not known early in the morning what work will have to be done. It is better to get the paper to the readers at a certain time, regularly, than have delays caused by late copy coming in for a change of ads.

It takes an awful lot of doctoring to keep truth from going into a decline.

The Name of Stebbins.

The Stebbins family is fairly numerous. It is not now a classic name. Its owners wear it ignorantly—more the shame for them. It is by right a classic name, borne as it was by the first of Christian martyrs—St. Steven, sometimes spelled Stephen. Steven is the Dutch way of spelling it. Spell it in Spanish—Esteban. Drop the initial silent "e," and then you have Steban. Among the ignorant the step to Stebbins is very short. And the honorable name of St. Steven takes on degradation even as the fine old Norman-French

The Point of View

If the Mercury was an attorney, no one and he had made a saving to the city of $5,000, it would charge a fee of $1,000 and go and have a good time. Being a newspaper, the administration will see that never a dollar's worth of work comes this way and the harpoon will be out of its socket all of the time. Only we are more than satisfied and that is what counts in the long run.—Mercury Bank in the long run.—Manhattan Mercury.

What counts in the long run depends entirely upon the point of view. If one is looking for money, for wealth, for riches and is running a paper purely as a cold-blooded business proposition, it does not pay to be public spirited. A man can make more money stealing—if it is money he is looking for and nothing else, than he can make working for the public good. The great trouble with a lot of people in this work is that they expect material rewards for spiritual service; they do a good deed, a public-spirited service, and expect that through divine interposition that the fellows they stepped upon will be baffled in their vengeance, that the forces of selfishness that were enbred will be checked in retaliation. Nothing of the kind happens. The Lord never promised material rewards for spiritual services. The reward for doing good, for all public-spirited acts, for all decent conduct, are in the satisfaction that comes to a man who has done his day's work well. That is all the reward that is coming to him. It often happens that a community is so highly civilized that its sense of justice will not suffer a good man to be punished for his decency; that is the ultimate hope for the honest newspaper. But the Lord won't help him by direct interposition to punish the wicked. The punishment of the wicked is their wickedness. They are denied a clean conscience; they are by their very selfishness forbidden to have the fun that comes from an honest job well done.

This may look very much like floating island and omelet soufflé; but it is all there is in the scheme of things in this life. It is the world's necessary law and running a newspaper, or conducting a blacksmith shop or opening an inter-oceanic canal—it is all the same, the law is the same; reward, wickedness gets its own punishment. Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord, and when a man goes into the business of punishing his enemies he is wasting his valuable time. Also he is chasing rainbows when he expects to reap material prosperity by being an honest man. If it is not enough fun just to be honest, then the thing to do is to be a crook and be as careful at it as possible. You can have all the worldly goods you want if you are willing to get them honestly; but there is nothing in honesty that guarantees a material reward. But you surely can get them by stealing, and gouging, and cheating and lying. And in the end they will poison you, and make you unhappy. But you will have your worldly goods. If you are willing to sacrifice for them you can have them. The same thing is true of wine, women and song. They are all within your reach. There is no trouble about getting them. But the price is your own soul. So it comes back to first principles. Get a plenty while you are getting, but what profiteth a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?

This should satisfy the editor of the Mercury that even though the harpoon of the administration sink deeply into his neck, he should not worry about it. A newspaper is like a man. It has its own soul to hold or lose, and every newspaper has to decide which it will do. And the degree of civilization of the community is measured by the prosperity of an honest newspaper.—Emporia (Kans.) Gazette

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Did it ever occur to you that a man's life is full of temptations? He comes into the world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between is exceedingly rocky.

The rule of contraries is one of the features of this trip. When he is little, the big girls kiss him; when he is big, the little girls kiss him. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, everyone wants to do him a favor. If he is in politics, it is for graft; if he is out of politics, he is no good to his country. If he doesn't give to charity, he's a stingy cuss; if he does, it's for show. If he is actively religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner.

If he gives affection, he is a soft specimen; if he cares for no one, he is cold-blooded. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; if he lives to an old age, he missed his calling. If he saves money, he is a grouch; if he spends it, he is a loafer; if he gets it, he is a grafter, if he doesn't get it, he's a bum.

As you make cash purchases with the merchants of Dothan, you had as well acquire the habit of asking for the Library Trade Checks, and save them up. You will want to give them to some one later along.

One of the blind tiger men got to cutting the price of beer, making it 15c straight, and straight-way got pulled. Independent out of the trust.

S. O. WILLIAMS, President.

J. B. SAXON, Vice-President.

J. HEARD SAXON, Sec. Treas.

Organization-Store Policy

The President, who is merchandise manager, has spent his entire working life in the dry goods business. His retail experience was gained in Troy, where he began business for himself as quite a youngster. Several years ago he went to Baltimore in the wholesals dry goods business as traveling salesman. He soon became a member and director of his firm, but quit the business so he could be at home with his family. His direct contact with the dry goods firms of Alabama, and Georgia, gave him intimate knowledge of the best ones in each State. He knew that Dothan was in the very heart of the best section of our Country. He knew the house of Saxon and Heard was built on a rock, that it was a success, that its life reputation was made, that its personal was the very embodiment of integrity, good breeding and keen business perception. When the opportunity presented itself to become a partner in this successful house of character, he wasn't long in deciding. After three months have elapsed, he feels he has chosen well. The President is ably assisted in all his functions by the Vice President, Mr. John Saxon, then whom no abler man can be found. His sturdy character and able business methods assert themselves in all dealings of the establishment. Where is there there a man, woman, or child, who would not entrust John Saxon with their affairs? The office is in charge of the Sec. Treasurer, Mr. Heard Saxon, who is known for his sterling worth by all his acquaintances. He has the training and experience that comes to few young men of his age. We commend him to you as being worthy your best confidence.

The Coffee With a History

In 1812, after his glorious victory over the British at Chalmette, Andrew Jackson treated his troops to French Market Coffee at the famous old French Market in New Orleans. For over a hundred years back the finale of every Mardi-Gras Ball was to sip a cup of this famous coffee as a "nightcap." Then this famous beverage could be had nowhere else. History repeats itself. You may now serve it daily at your own table. For the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

HE ARRESTED FOR

ASSAULT TO RAPE

Jake Avery, a white man living several miles south of Dothan, was arrested Sunday by the county officials on a charge of assault to rape, the charge being preferred by a cousin of Avery's wife. The warrant was withdrawn today by the prosecutor, who also paid the court costs.

The woman who made the charges was staying at the house with Avery and his family and was sleeping in the room with Avery's children. According to Avery's statement, he heard the children moving about in a restless manner during the night and went into the room to investigate the matter. The young woman awoke and became frightened.

Sunday morning a warrant was issued, charging the man with assault to rape. In the probate court today the warrant was withdrawn by the prosecutor, who paid the costs of the court.

COUNTY COURT IN

SESSION TODAY

A regular term of the Houston County Court was called here today, with Judge George Leslie presiding.

Several cases were disposed of, the majority of them being for gaming and running violation.

Levis Carroll, charged with burglary, was bound over to the grand jury under a bond of $500.

Will Hodges, the negro porter workman at the Central depot, who stole numerous articles from freight packages, among which were some caps belonging to the Farmer-Whitely Dry Goods Company, which led to his arrest, was tried on a charge of burglary and bound over to await the action of the grand jury on a bond of $500.

Will Nollie, the white man arrested several days ago by Deputy Sheriff Pittman, on a charge of grand larceny at Ashford, was tried for petit larceny and fined $5.00.

CLAIMS THAT HE WAS ROBBED BY WOMEN

On a warrant charging them with robbing him, sworn out by a young white man named Brackin, two white women, who live in the northwestern part of town, were arrested Saturday night by the county officials and placed in the county jail.

Brackin claimed that the women relieved him of $125 while he was drunk at their house, but the women proved their innocence and that a man who was with Brackin had taken the money for safe-keeping and carried it home with him.

Brackin failed to appear against them today in the probate court at a preliminary hearing and their evidence exonerated them.

O. M. Stragall visited Dothan from Abbeville Sunday.

O. C. Speight, of Ozark, was a visitor to the city Sunday.

FIRE CHIEF IS

SEVERELY SHOCKED

Fire Chief M. T. Jones, of the Dothan Fire Department, came very near being killed by electrocution Saturday afternoon at the fire station. He was taking a bath and as he stood up in the tub, his arm came in contact with an electric light cut off that was defective, and was charged with a heavy current. The water and the cut off made a complete circuit and Mr. Jones received the entire charge.

He stood the shock for several minutes unable to move, but finally overcome with the current, he fell, striking his head against an iron bed. He remained unconscious about forty minutes. During the shock he bit his tongue in several places and was badly shaken up in other ways by the accident.

This is the second accident of this nature caused by this defective globe receptacle, but it will now be fixed.

CITY OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED TONIGHT

At a meeting of the city council, which will be held tonight, a fire chief, chief of police and corps of police officers will be elected.

At the present, J. L. Domingus is the chief of the police, with C. J. Rollins, L. L. J. Holland, I. L. Reeves and J. M. Vann as assistants, and M. T. Jones is chief of the fire department. These officers will be in the race tonight, and they will probably have some outside opposition.

THE 1910 EXPOSITION

Montgomery, Oct. 3.—Those people from other parts of the state who expect to come to the 1910 Exposition, October 19th to 28th, at Montgomery, will be interested to know that the poultry show is going to represent all the modern and up-to-date methods of raising chickens of all kinds.

Director Todd is already placing his incubators and getting ready to bring off a brood of chicks every day during the fair. His purpose is to show that it is possible in Alabama to raise chickens in a limited space at good profit. The fact of the matter is, very few people have any real adequate idea of what science and invention have done in this line of industry. It is now possible to determine just how much food and drink a young chick will need, and what kind, from the time it picks the egg until it is large enough to grow crisp on the broiler.

Out there will be shown the ways and means of feeding and caring for the young chickens, and the best sizes and ages to put them on the market. It is estimated that fifty or sixty hens on a very small space on a city lot a man may make a profit of from $1,000 to $1,500 if he operates according to the most modern methods of poultry raising.

The bell weevil is on the way to this part of Alabama, and according to the best estimates of experts, he will be doing business in Montgomery county by 1912. It is, therefore, of great importance that every other means of making money on a farm outside of raising cotton, should be well understood and carefully studied. Young chickens at 25 cents each, and larger ones at 40 and 50 cents means more profit than cotton, with half of it reared up by the bell weevil. Alabama is making a careful and constant study of the latest methods of high class farming, and it is the purpose of the officials of the exposition to render every aid possible in this movement for the better things in the country.

As a result, in addition to the chickens, there will be also, all sorts of live stock, all classes and kinds of farm products, and every incentive to get out and hustle, will be presented those men who are now tilling the soil for a living. Not a citizen within the territory of Montgomery can afford to miss this opportunity to see the latest and most improved methods and ideas with regard to agriculture, and at the same time to enjoy themselves with their friends and relatives in many forms of wholesome and high class entertainment.

Montgomery holds out a cordial welcome to every man, woman and child who can come and be with its people from October 19th to the 28th.

Miss Strother wishes to say to all patrons and friends that she expects to be in Dothan again in a few days with new models and renewed enthusiasm, and wishes to have everyone call to see her, at

WAKE-UP WITH CITY FATHERS

ALDERMEN GRANT, BLACK AND HOLLAND RESIGN LAST NIGHT

At a meeting of the city council last night Aldermen J. W. Grant, A. Black and K. P. Holland resigned, and no sooner than their resignations were tendered they were accepted. Then Charles Roland was elected in A. Black's place, S. J. Espy in J. W. Grant's place, and M. D. Hornsby in Mr. Holland's place.

The resignations came after the council elected J. L. Domingus chief of police instead of J. A. Blackmon. Four of the councilmen voted for the latter, and five for the former.

Messrs. Pileher, Black, Holland and Grant believed that the prohibition laws would be better enforced with another police head, but the other five councilmen didn't concur in this belief. For some time there had been friction in this line, and when it was seen last night that no relief was promised, three of the councilmen thought it useless to continue as members of the council, sharing the cussin' of the public for matters they could not remedy.

Two of the members who resigned expressed the belief that the blind tigers were assessed regularly the first of each month, a certain amount of money, instead of cases being made out against them and tried according to law. They didn't think this was remedying matters any, inasmuch as the cases docketed since the first of August show but $400 turned into the town treasury, and but $200 of that was for August and September.

Henry Holt and Frank Ross were each fined $100 yesterday, and the 7th of September Henry Davis paid $50, and on August 27th G. R. Smith paid $100 and the 2nd Ben Payne $50. Thus is the last the dockets show from August 1st to October 3rd.

If other monies are collected, no record is made on the city docket.

Other city officials were elected without opposition, and Espy & Farmer elected city attorneys.

NEW YORK VISITED BY A BIG BLAZE

TOTAL DAMAGES ESTIMATED AT A MILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS

New York, October 3.—Fire in the vicinity of Twenty-Fourth street and Eleventh avenue early tonight swept an area of 500 by 300 feet, causing damage estimated at $1,500,000. Chief Croker announced that it was the greatest burned area during his experience in New York.

The space swept comprises almost three acres of lumber yards, factories and stables on Eleventh avenue, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. For nearly three hours the fire was beyond the control of the fire department and it was stopped by apparatus, which, combined threw water at the rate of 25,000 gallons a minute. Five hundred horses were rescued from the stables and in spite of the size of the blaze and the difficulty in fighting it, it was remarkably free from serious accident.

One fireman was badly hurt by a bucking horse, and several others were less seriously hurt.

The fire started in the lumber yard of Moore Brothers, Eleventh avenue and Twenty-fourth street, quickly destroyed it and ignited the kindling wood factory of Clark and Wilkins, which was likewise burned to the ground.

Besides these structures, the following were either destroyed or badly damaged:

Six story factory of the New York Metal Ceiling Company; stables and storehouse of James J. Duffy, contractor; the Pennsylvania Hotel, three story structure; warehouse of the United States Express Company; vacant two-story factory of the Atlas Metal Bed Company.

For a while the flames threatened the Baltimore and Ohio Freight yards, and the specialty department of the Standard Oil Company, but hard work checked the blaze in time.

WILL THEY DO IT?

There is talk of paving Troy street with the left-over brick. This is a narrow street and the council should make a special effort to pave it while they are at building fronts Troy street, and the paving on Foster stops at the crossing of Troy. This little street ought to be paved up to the Presbyterian church by all means.

Pert Fordham, of Webb, was in town today.

MOB MAY HAVE LYNCHED HIM

NEGRO CONVICT ASSAULTS AND THEN MURDERS MRS. STUCKY

Andalusia, Ala., Oct. 3.—A negro convict is being held by a mob at the lower stockade of the Henderson Lumber Company near Sanford, and will probably be lynched before midnight for assaulting and murdering Mrs. Herman Stucky, the young wife of a farmer living near the camp. The crime is one of the most revolting that ever occurred in this county, and was committed in the middle of the afternoon. The convict was captured on the spot by G. O. Winters and Edgar Nix, who were in the woods nearby at the time, and brought to Sanford by them. On their way from the camp on an engine the negro jumped to the ground and they shot him through the arms and caught him again, coming on to Sanford, where they delivered him to the officers and the mob took him from the officers.

Mrs. Stucky was at home alone when the negro, whose name could not be learned, approached her house, seized her, committed a criminal assault and when she began screaming he struck her in the head with some blunt instrument. She lived about an hour.

ONE WEEK

Our sale beginning Sept. 24, has proven a decided success so far. We have the goods we advertised and are selling them as advertised. The people have learned that we do just what we say we will, consequently they know what to expect when we advertise a SALE.

We are letting goods go at such unreasonable prices that it staggers the belief of the most skeptical—not a dissatisfied customer has shown up, which proves conclusively that each customer is satisfied.

I have no apologies to make to my competitors for these prices. As advertised before, money is what we need, and need it now, and have put on these unreasonable prices, including bargain-giving for not other reason than to raise a big lot of money in a short time.

Our goods are not shoddy, second-handed, but the best goods direct from the mills and manufacturers.

For the reason I stated above, we are going to continue this sale one week, positively closing October 8, after which time the goods will take their former prices. Space will not admit of a protracted list of prices, but we invite you to look to your best interest and realize the benefits to be derived in purchasing your needs before the end of this SALE.
